

From: Sumiao Li (sli08@nyit.edu) This sender is in your safe list.
Sent: Wednesday, June 04, 2014 05:33:30 PM
To: Glen Clifford (glenclifford@live.com)
Cc: Monique Taylor (mtaylo05@nyit.edu);
Keh Kwek (kkwek@nyit.edu);
Roger Yu (ryu@nyit.edu)

Dear Glen,

I want to thank you for all your work as an Adjunct Professor teaching Radio-101 for NYIT-Nanjing for the Spring semester of 2014.

We were lucky to find you whose substantial background in radio broadcasting had been enriched by work in the areas of ESL language instruction and communication consultancy. We were luckier that this background, combined with your dedication and professionalism, allowed you to quickly put together a syllabus covering a wide range of fundamental knowledge and skills required for the broadcast industry, and to successfully deliver a rigorous training program in conditions that are far from ideal.

While both student feedback and Professor Deran Browne's class observation confirm that your subject teaching is of a very high standard, we also appreciate your constructive participation in activities beyond your immediate responsibilities: Lecturing on Australian and New Zealand culture with Professor Qadir Mohiuddin's class, editing samples of radio programming for Professor Patrick Karle's class, writing letters on students' behalf, sharing your intercultural knowledge with colleagues--these are just some of the valuable services you have done for NYIT-Nanjing. Thank you!

With warm regards,

Sumiao Li
Associate Professor of English
Assistant Dean, College of Arts and Sciences
New York Institute of Technology, Nanjing