Employment summary

Lecturer Glen Clifford has been employed by Dushanbe Innovation Institute since September 2025.

Mr Clifford has been in charge of the English Language Programme for first year students. This programme aims to ready students for future academic success, while also providing industry specific, or, vocational language and communication skills.

In terms of the above, in the first semester Mr Clifford has provided training that covered many areas of functional academic language, aligned to the Common European Framework. For the second semester, training has encompassed language and soft-skills for I.T teamwork, project management, and software application marketing.

Mr Clifford is preparing to leave Tajikistan for a position in Baku, and this summary has been prepared as a pending release letter for June, 2026.
